GRAMMA ZANNA'S WISDOM & WONDER

Barnyard Bonanza

"The best adventure isn't about how far we travel, it's all about the memories we make along the way."

Have you ever visited a local farm? It's one of the happiest places to wander.

You just might find fuzzy, furry friends waiting to greet you. The beauty of the fields and gardens is something to behold. There's a peacefulness in the countryside that's hard to describe, with tractors to admire, fields stretching to the horizon, and friendly faces ready with a smile. Every visit is filled with little moments that remind us to slow down, look around, and discover something new.

This month's adventure celebrates the wonderful world of the barnyard and the amazing people who help bring our communities to life. Whether you're visiting a farm market, feeding friendly animals, picking fresh produce, or simply taking the scenic route through the countryside, there's always something waiting to make you smile.

As you explore these pages, I hope you'll discover a few new places to visit, meet some new friends, share a few new stories, and find plenty of reasons to spend time together.

So gather your family, pack a few snacks, and see where your next adventure takes you.

Until next time... Keep Wandering. Keep Wondering.
With love, Gramma Zanna

COMMUNITY CONNECTION

The Meaford Harbour was once an important shipping port that helped build the town's economy. Today, it's one of Grey County's favourite waterfront destinations, featuring a marina, walking trails, fishing, and easy access to downtown shops and restaurants.

The Keady Livestock Market opened on May 1, 1950, starting with an old church shed purchased by Alvin Kuhl. What began as a livestock auction has grown into one of Ontario's best-known Tuesday markets, attracting thousands of visitors who come to shop, watch the livestock auctions, and explore hundreds of vendor booths.

Walter's Falls is more than just a beautiful waterfall! The village grew around a sawmill built by founder John Walter in the early 1850s. At one time, the community also featured a grist mill, woollen mill, blacksmith shop, post office, tavern, and wagon maker. Today, visitors can enjoy the waterfall, the historic charm of the village, and the nearby Bruce Trail.

- ☐ Visit Sauble Beach.
- ☐ Climb the Kincardine Lighthouse.

Barnyard Yoga Adventure

Moo-ve, stretch, and giggle your way around the barnyard! Gather your family and see if you can become your favourite farm animals through fun yoga poses and a little imagination.

Can you stand tall like a proud rooster? Stretch long like a curious cat waking up from a nap? Spread your arms wide like the branches of an apple tree, or wiggle like a happy puppy? Add in animal sounds for even more fun!

Use your imagination - take turns choosing an animal and inventing a new pose for everyone to copy.

When your barnyard adventure is over, lie back in the field together, close your eyes, take three slow, deep breaths, and listen for the sounds of nature around you.

Wonder Challenge

Can your family create a brand-new barnyard yoga pose?
Give it a funny name and teach it to someone else.
Maybe your pose will become the next favourite on the farm!

Where smiles grow

“Where To Next?

On our holiday we took a vote to decide where our next adventure would be.

Everyone had a different idea,
but that's half the fun!” — Jack, 8

“We spent the afternoon exploring and stopped at a roadside stand for fresh vegetables and homemade jam.”

— Dahlia, 7

“I met a puppy
in the park
who just wanted
belly rubs all day.”

— Jared, 4

“We went to the beach
and built sandcastles.
I found a heart shaped rock in the sand.”

Scottish Highland Cows

With their long shaggy hair and impressive curved horns, Scottish Highland cows are one of the most recognizable farm animals in the world! Originally from the Highlands of Scotland, these hardy cattle are built to handle cold, windy weather. Their thick, fluffy coats keep them warm in winter, and many people are surprised to learn they are usually gentle and curious animals.

Highland cows come in several colours, including reddish-brown, black, yellow, white, and even silver.

Fun Fact: That shaggy "bang" isn't just for looks— it helps protect their eyes from rain, snow, and bright sunshine! If you ever spot Highland cows at a local farm, be sure to admire them from a safe distance. They're a favourite with visitors and are always ready for a photo!

Sheep Smarts!

Sheep have amazing memories! They can recognize dozens of faces, including other sheep and even people they've met before. They also enjoy staying close to their family and friends in the flock.

Wonder Challenge:

Can you count the sheep in a field? Do they all stay together, or do some like to wander a little farther away?

Chicken Chatter!

Chickens are always talking! They use dozens of different sounds to communicate with one another. Some calls tell their friends they've found food, while others warn the flock to watch out for danger.

Wonder Challenge:

Close your eyes and listen carefully. How many different chicken sounds can you hear?

Horses Can't Burp

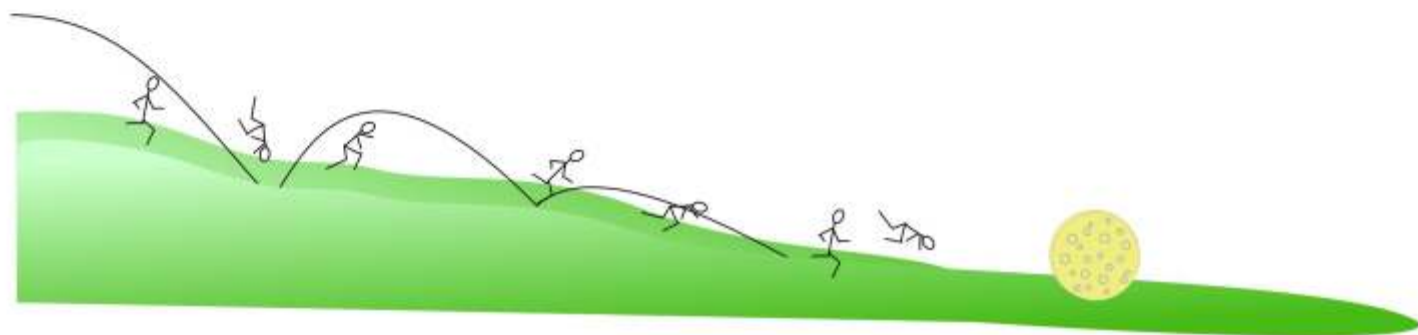

Unlike many animals, horses can't burp or vomit. That's why sudden changes in diet or eating too much grain can sometimes lead to serious stomach problems.

Wonder Tip:

If you're visiting horses, only feed them treats with the owner's permission.

WORLD OF WONDER

Cooper's Hill Cheese-Rolling and Wake - Usually happens in May In Gloucestershire, England, people chase rolling cheese wheels down a steep hill. This famous event involves a round wheel of Double Gloucester cheese rolling down the hill, while racers sprint, tumble, slide, and bounce after it. The hill is so steep that many people fall before reaching the bottom. The cheese can reach speeds over 100 km/hr! The winner gets to keep the cheese! The tradition is believed to be hundreds of years old. People travel from many countries just to watch or participate.
